

CONVICTS HANG CHARGED WITH NEGRO IN EMBEZZLEMENT PRISON

Take Life of Assailant of Woman Known as "Prisoners' Friend"

INQUEST SHOWS NOTHING

Act Is Done While Angry Mob
Outside Glomored for Prisoner

RAWLINS, Wyo., Oct. 2.—The details of the lynching of Frank Wigfall, the negro assailant of Mrs. Esther Higgins, aged 78, known as the "prisoners' friend," by the convicts of the jail here, today, while the wardens were holding off a party of would-be citizen lynchers, may never be known.

The sinister threat, "the first man who equals is the next man to be hung," silenced all the convicts and prison guards examined by a coroner's jury today. The jury gave up the task late this afternoon. All the jury returned was what it knew before.

On the way to breakfast this morning, Wigfall jested about his attack upon Mrs. Higgins. He was brought here for safe keeping late yesterday, after his capture at Fort Steele. During the early morning today citizens had surrounded the county jail and were still parleying with the wardens at breakfast time for his surrender to their hands. The warden of the county jail had shipped Wigfall out of a rear door and lodged him in the penitentiary.

Prisoners Organize.

At breakfast time the other prisoners in the penitentiary, many of whom remembered acts of kindness by "Granny" Higgins, organized by signals.

When they were started back to work and Wigfall turned, under guard, to the cell house, about a hundred of the convicts broke loose and followed the negro, catching him before his cell guard could lock him up. The cell guard was shoved into the cell and the key turned on him.

One of the convicts produced a rope and while the others held the negro, he tossed a half hitch over the negro's head and made the other end of the rope fast to the balcony rail of the cell house. The negro was tossed over the rail, and the convicts marched back to their work.

PATENT MEDICINES MORE DANGEROUS THAN DYNAMITE

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 2.—"At present we are in the patent medicine stage of ignorance," Dr. J. N. Hurty of Indiana, president of the American Health association, told the delegates to the National Conservation congress this afternoon. "Patent medicines are more dangerous than dynamite, and the side of them should be more restricted."

N. Y. HERALD'S FIGURES GIVE ROOSEVELT LEAD

Newspaper Which Is Opposing Him Concedes His Growing Strength Throughout Country

Allison Stocker.

Auditorium Hotel, Denver, Colo.

The New York Herald this morning prints its own poll regarding results throughout nation in November election. As the Herald is bitterly opposing Roosevelt's election, it certainly cannot be suspected of partiality for Progressive cause. Based on Herald's poll Roosevelt will lead Taft in New York state by 239,000 plurality. Poll gives Roosevelt 16,000 plurality over Wilson and 22,000 plurality over Taft in Connecticut. It gives Roosevelt plurality over both Taft and Wilson in Pennsylvania, and 106,000 plurality over Taft in Indiana. It shows Taft running a bad third in every single state except Wyoming and Ohio, where he takes second place by narrow margin. Our own polls invariably show much larger percentage than does the Herald. It really looks like landslide, especially in great industrial centers.

JOSEPH DIXON, Chairman, National Committee

Special to The Gazette.

DENVER, Oct. 3.—The above telegram from Senator Dixon, the Progressive party campaign manager, has added to the enthusiasm already manifest in Colorado. More than this, word has been given to "fight every inch of ground in Colorado."

The recent canvass made in various states of the Union indicates that at present there is no doubt Roosevelt is the strongest candidate for president. The old parties find it difficult to get an expression from voters because of the fact that heretofore these voters have been members of these organizations and are reluctant to admit to their former political campaigns that they are out of the fold. Because of this fact it is almost impossible, so the parties admit, to procure anything like a satisfactory poll of the situation. The New York Herald poll to which reference is made in Senator Dixon's telegram, was made by a radically reactionary publication, every possible effort was exerted to give either Taft or Wilson prominence in the showing made. It is apparent, however, that this could not be done, and under such circumstances the poll made by the enemy of the Progressive party shows that it predominates with the people.

In Colorado the campaign will be one of the most vigorous in the history of the state. E. P. Costigan, Progressive candidate for governor, is preparing for a whirlwind campaign in every section of the state. He is one of the most interesting orators in Colorado, and in dealing with the new Progressive platform, which was given out this week, is especially eloquent and enthusiastic.

This platform, if statements of the public is indicative, is proving one of the most popular ever promulgated by

Rig Progressive Meeting Monday Night; Complete Executive Committee Is Named

At a meeting last night of the officers of the Progressive executive committee, the full executive committee to conduct the campaign was named. The committee consists of 12 members, 10 men and three women, and is a strong and representative body which in its personnel reflects the high character of the Progressive movement.

The committee as completed consists of James Stewart, chairman; Dr. Caroline E. Spencer, first vice chairman; John H. Weir, second vice chairman; W. W. Gail, secretary; Philip B. Stewart, W. C. Sturgis, F. H. Dunnington, Clarence P. Dodge, Dan Dillon Casement, Dr. W. A. Campbell, Dan Rupp, Mrs. John B. Stephen and Mrs. W. W. Williamson. A county central committee will be organized with a precinct committeeman and woman in each precinct.

Surprising interest is being shown throughout the county in the Progressive cause, and the committee on petitions, appointed Monday night to secure signatures to the petitions necessary to nominate the Progressive legislative and county candidates, has met with great success. Progressives responded in numbers to the call for signers of the petitions at The Gazette office, and with the other petitions circulated, the entire number of signatures required already has been secured, and the petitions probably will be filed today.

The Progressive headquarters in The Gazette building are the center of great activity, and the most significant phase of the campaign so far is the huge demand for Bull Moose buttons. More than a thousand already have found eager wearers, and the demand continues to grow as the supply can hardly keep pace with it.

The first big Progressive rally of the campaign is scheduled for Monday evening, when Edward P. Costigan, candidate for governor; J. N. Stevens and Clarence P. Dodge, candidates for congress, and Benjamin Griffith, candidate for attorney general, will speak. Arrangements will be perfected today for the rally, which promises to be notable for attendance and enthusiasm.

DIXON SAYS TAFT SPENT $600,000

Demands That Examination
Be Made of Other Men's Expenditures

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—Based on demands made by Senator Dixon to the senate committee investigating campaign expenditures, today, Charles P. Taft may be called to testify as to his contributions this year in support of the president's campaign for re-election. Senator Dixon declared he had heard that the president's brother spent $600,000.

Senator Dixon demanded as soon as he took the stand today, and repeatedly throughout his testimony, that the committee examine "before election" every one who handled funds or might have contributed to the pre-convention campaign of Taft, Wilson, Underwood, Harmon, Clark or La Follette.

Senator Dixon's reference to campaign activities for Governor Harmon, whom Senator Pomeroy had supported, intensified the feeling between the two men. When Senator Dixon demanded of Senator Pomeroy whether Harmon had made a public statement of his expenditures, the Ohio senator half arose, grasped the arm of his chair, glared at the witness and said:

Invited Dixon "Outside."

"If you'll step outside, I'll answer that question."

Senator Dixon said he would tell anything he could about the Roosevelt funds, but he insisted that the committee show as much activity toward other candidates as it had toward the Progressive candidate. He said he had been informed that large sums had been contributed for the support of

Roosevelt Is Back From His Long Tour

OSTER BAY, N. Y., Oct. 2.—Thence Roosevelt reached home this evening after his long western and southern trip and will spend a few hours with his family before resuming campaign activities.

The colonel denied himself to visitors and planned to remain in quiet until tomorrow night when he will return to New York for a campaign conference. Late Thursday night he will leave for Washington to give his testimony on Friday before the senate committee investigating campaign contributions.

OFFICER KILLED IN FALL FROM HORSE

FORT YELLOWSTONE, Wyo., Oct. 2.—Lieut. Robert Lounsbury, aged 25, quartermaster in the first cavalry, second squadron, was thrown from a horse today and killed.

Lounsbury, with a number of officers from the fort, was riding to the target grounds, where plans had been made for a steeplechase. A troop horse in the rear of the officers became frightened and ran away, colliding with Lounsbury's mount. Lounsbury was pitched into a mound of boulders and was dead when picked up.

Lounsbury was married three months ago to Miss Florence Earl of Lake Mills, Wis.

ROOSEVELT ELECTORS WIN OUT IN CALIF.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 2.—The question of the validity of the Progressive electoral petitions in Los Angeles county, raised by Frank G. Jordan, secretary of state, was decided today by Attorney General U. S. Webb, in favor of the petitioners.

The attorney general's ruling will allow Roosevelt electoral nominees to go on the November ballot by petition, as well as by nomination of the Republican state convention held September 24 in Sacramento.

MAY ABOLISH H. S. FOOTBALL

END OF SPORT AT LOCAL
INSTITUTION POSSIBLE

Serious Casualties Lead to
Agitation by J. J. Eubank,
Member of the Board

Agitation started more than a year ago among the High schools of Colorado for the abolishment of interscholastic football, and increased by the deaths of High school players in Longmont and Pueblo, Tuesday, may culminate this fall in the dropping of football as a sport in the Colorado Springs High school.

Directly resulting from the terrible mauling which the High school football team received at the hands of the School of Mines players last Saturday at Golden, in which three were injured, agitation headed by J. J. Eubank, a member of the school board, was started yesterday, and according to Mr. Eubank, members of the board are backing him in his opposition to the game for High school boys.

Mr. Eubank's son, James, is a half-back on the Terrors team this fall, and is regarded as one of the best players in the state. He was severely injured in the game with the Mines, but was able to be out in a suit last night at regular practice.

Wants Football Abolished.

"I believe we should abolish football from High school athletics," said Mr. Eubank last night. "Although we might not have any serious accidents to the team this fall, if there should be one, and if my boy, or anybody's boy should be fatally hurt, the school board would feel responsible for it in a measure. I realize that there must

Taft Is Thrown Out of Bricklayers Union

BOSTON, Oct. 2.—Because President Taft laid the cornerstone of the building of the Boston Young Men's Christian association today, the Chicago Bricklayers union has been asked to withdraw the card of honorary membership recently voted him by that body. This action was taken at a meeting tonight of Bricklayers union No. 3 of this city, on the ground that the building was being erected by nonunion labor.

Costigan Challenges Ammons and Parks to Debate Issues

Special to The Gazette.

DENVER, Oct. 2. Edward P. Costigan, Progressive candidate for governor, today mailed a letter to C. C. Parks, Republican candidate, and E. M. Ammons, Democratic candidate for governor, challenging them or either of them to a joint discussion of the platforms of the parties represented.

In his challenge, Mr. Costigan calls attention to the fact that the people are demanding a broad daylight policy in this state. He states that he will be more than pleased to meet either of them, and that they can name their own terms and conditions, simply giving him the right of full and free expression.

Mr. Costigan's letter, although couched in his characteristic, calm language, is a strong challenge both to Mr. Parks and Mr. Ammons. It is believed that if either of them accepts the challenge, the four speaking places will be Denver, Colorado Springs, Pueblo and probably Boulder, with some chances for Greeley.

"The people of Colorado are asking for a more dependable statement of conditions than they have had in the past," Mr. Costigan said tonight, "and would applaud a political battle in which the combatants were facing each other."

In his letters to his opponents, Mr. Costigan suggested that the debate be held "in one or more of our chief centers of population, the time and place to be determined by yourself."

GENERAL STRIKE MINERS AT ELY ANSWERS

MILLS SHUT DOWN AND MEN LEAVE

Still at Work at Bingham
But May Close Down in Near Future

ELY, Nev., Oct. 2.—The strike of the miners here is complete and the indications tonight are that the operators will not attempt to open their mines again this winter. The windows of all the company buildings are being boarded up and hundreds of men were prepared tonight to leave the camp in the morning. The ore supply at the Steptoe mill will be exhausted tomorrow and the plant will then close down.

Not a saloon in Ely was open today and there is no disorder in the camp. The miners were paid off today and the smeltermill will receive their pay tomorrow. By tomorrow night it is expected that a majority of the miners will have deserted the camp.

With the closing of the mills tomorrow more than four thousand men will be idle.

Charles H. Moyer, president of the Western Federation of Miners, in a statement tonight said that the strike could have been averted had the mining operators consented to meet with the union leaders.

Delighted With News.

BINGHAM, Utah, Oct. 2.—The miners of this district were greatly pleased when word reached them today of the strike in Ely and the union leaders here declare that the walkout of the Nevada miners will strengthen the cause of the local men.

A rumor was current today that unless a settlement of the labor troubles was brought about within the next three or four days, the Utah Copper company would make no further efforts to open their mines but would close them down permanently for the winter. The report could not be verified tonight.

Await Developments.

SALT LAKE CITY, Oct. 2.—D. C. Jackling, general manager of the Utah Copper company at Bingham, Utah, and also in control of the operation of the Nevada Consolidated Copper company at Ely, where the miners, steam shovelmen and mine mechanics struck today, said that his company had decided on no action at the latter place.

"We shall wait for developments," said Mr. Jackling, "and be guided by them. The strike at Ely was brought on in order to force us to accede to the demands of the miners at Bingham. Recognition of the Western Federation of Miners is what the strike leaders really want, but although we always are willing to deal with our men as employees, we shall never recognize their organization."

ADMIRAL YOUNG DIES

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—Rear Admiral Lucien Young, formerly captain of the Mare Island navy yards at San Francisco, died here late today after a brief illness. A deficiency of blood brought on by a ruptured blood vessel of the stomach was given as the cause of death.

NEW SANATORIUM WILL COST HALF A MILLION

Corporation of Local Men Has Plans for Great Scientific Institution to Replace Cragmor

A great sanatorium for the scientific treatment of tuberculosis, which will embody the ideas of the foremost medical experts in the United States, and will typify the most advanced steps in hospital architecture, is to be built within the coming year on the grounds now occupied by the Cragmor sanatorium, northwest of Colorado Springs. The building will cost $500,000, and a corporation in which J. A. Hays and W. A. Oakes, prominent men of this city, are taking a leading part, has been organized and active steps toward raising the capital have been taken. Preliminary work toward the construction of the building will be started this week.

The sanatorium is to be unique in its construction, being modeled after Indian pueblos, each room having an outside chamber, in order to secure the maximum of sunshine and fresh air. The building will be six stories high in places, and each story will cover less space than the one beneath it. The main building will accommodate 150 patients, and there will be detached cottages, a heating plant, garage, tennis courts and laundry separate from the sanatorium proper.

The sanatorium will be constructed entirely of talciferous concrete, and will be absolutely fireproof.

Dr. Gerald B. Webb, Dr. W. W. Williams and Dr. A. N. Forster, experts of international reputation in the treatment of tubercular diseases, are closely connected with the formation of the corporation and the construction of the sanatorium. Dr. Forster is at present director of the Cragmor institution.

The aim of the company is to provide a sanatorium for wealthy sufferers from the disease, where they can obtain the comforts and the scientific treatment that they could get in no other place in the country. The execu-

MURDER TRIAL RIOT LEADERS POSTPONED

Exhaust Venire 350 Talesmen,
Secure Only Seven Jurors.
Resume Case Oct. 14.

SALEM, Mass., Oct. 2.—Four jurors had been chosen for the trial of Joseph J. Ector, Arturo Giovannitti and Joseph Caruso, charged with being responsible for the murder of Anna Lo- nizzo, during the Lawrence textile strike of last winter, when the venire of 350 talesmen became exhausted late today.

Judge Quinn ordered an adjournment of the case to October 14. On that day a new panel of 250 men will report.

Next Monday morning Judge Quinn will hear arguments on a motion to be filed by counsel for the defense, in which they are expected to ask for the release of the prisoners on bail.

Seventh Juror Passed.

When it became apparent that a jury probably could not be secured from the present panel, counsel for the defense asked Judge Quinn to order a postponement rather than to call a new venire forthwith, as had been considered.

William Greeley, the seventh man called today qualified and took his place with the two jurors selected Monday.

The presence of William D. Haywood, the Lawrence strike leader, in the court room today added to the interest in the case.

Previous to the opening of court, Haywood and Fred Hegewald of Spokane, Wash., head of the Ector-Giovannitti defense committee, conferred in an anteroom with the prisoners.

Haywood also held a reception in the court room before court opened, sitting among the talesmen where he gave full vent to some of his views. This attracted the attention of state officers and he was asked to move to another part of the room, which he did.

City Attorney Charged With Serious Offense

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 2.—City Prosecutor Guy Eddie was arrested late today on a charge of "contributing to the delinquency of a minor person." He was taken before Superior Judge Curtis D. Wilbur of the juvenile court, who set the arraignment for Friday and released Eddie on his own recognizance.

The city prosecutor declared he was innocent of any wrongdoing, and maintained that he was the victim of a conspiracy of political enemies.

The arrest was made shortly after Mrs. Alice Phillips, 20 years old, had entered Eddie's office. Humane Officer L. F. McLaughlin, and several deputies broke in the door and took Eddie into custody. It is claimed by the latter that the hinges of the door had been unscrewed in advance to facilitate the officers' entry.

The young woman was said to have visited the city prosecutor with the view of taking employment as a detective in the enforcement of city ordinances aimed at the suppression of vice.

Governor Spry of Utah Urges
More Reclamation by the Government

SALT LAKE CITY, Oct. 2.—Governors of western states and foreign delegates were the speakers at the afternoon session of the Twentieth International Irrigation congress. Between sessions the visitors listened to a pipe organ recital in the tabernacle.

Two more cities entered the already crowded field as bidders for next year's meeting of the congress. Invitations to meet at Mobile, Ala., and Indianapolis, Ind., were presented to the congress by business and commercial organizations of those cities. The next convention city will be selected tomorrow, at which time also officers will be elected.

Gov. William Spry of Utah was the first speaker at the afternoon session. "I strongly favor the government increasing its bonded indebtedness as far as reclamation is concerned," he said. "Where possible the government should conserve the flood waters at the heads of the rivers for distribution below."

Progress Irrigation.

Gov. Tasker L. Oddie of Nevada reviewed the progress of irrigation in Nevada and described the laws passed to prevent abuses by land speculators. Former Gov. Arthur L. Thomas of Utah, who issued the call for the first congress, said that organization of the body opened the way for all the great irrigation legislation that has followed since.

Following an address by Norman B. Rankin, representing the Western Canadian Irrigation association of Alberta, a resolution was passed providing for a representation of the congress at the next meeting of the Canadian association.

Ned Nelson, trade commissioner to America from New South Wales, Australia, declared that the interest of the producer is practically identical in all countries.

The expansion of American trade in Japan in 1911 was unprecedented, the increase amounting to nearly 50 per cent, as compared with 1910.

NO JURY YET IN TRIAL DYNAMITERS

Several of Ventlemen Afraid to Serve on Jury May Get 12 Men Today

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 2.—Thirty-four ventlemen had been excused and 12 remained in the box, still under consideration, at the conclusion of today's examination for the selection of a jury to try the 48 men accused by the government of complicity in an alleged dynamite plot.

It was thought the jury might be completed tomorrow or Friday. The trial of the defendants, headed by Frank M. Ryan, president of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, and including other officials of that union, together with members of two other unions, then will begin.

District Attorney Miller will open the case for the government. His opening statement will cover the ground upon which the prosecution intends by the testimony to sustain its charges that the dynamite conspiracy continued for five or six years, that Ollie E. McManis's confession of working in a "dynamiting crew" is corroborated by persons from many sections of the country, that the McNamaras were not alone in financing and arranging for a widespread system of blowing up the works of employers of nonunion labor.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 2.—Questions whether they feared for their personal safety if they served as jurors were asked ventlemen today in the selection of a jury for the trial of the accused dynamite plotters.

The questions developed a dispute between District Attorney Charles W. Miller and United States Senator John W. Kern, counsel for the defense. "Well, it has been shown here that one man didn't want to go on the jury because he feared for his personal safety," said Mr. Miller.

Bert F. Haynes, owner of a store at Linton, Ind., said he did not care to serve on the jury.

"Are you afraid it would hurt your business?" asked Mr. Miller.

"If he is such a coward as that he may step aside," said Judge Anderson. In one instance, Mr. Miller said, "Labor unions are not on trial here."

"It is competent to question a prospective juror as to his relation with unions because the relation of the defendants with labor unions is likely to cut a big figure in this case."

"Have you any prejudice against union labor?" was the chief question asked today.

Gavin Paine of Indianapolis, answering he had no prejudice, said he had formed an opinion as to the guilt of some of the defendants.

MARSHALL AND TAFT JOKE AT BANQUET

BOSTON, Oct. 2.—Gov. Thomas R. Marshall of Indiana, the Democratic candidate for vice president, shook hands with President Taft tonight just before the banquet of the supreme council, Scottish Rite Masons, at which both were guests.

President Taft joked with Governor Marshall for a few minutes on the wear and tear of campaigning and then both passed into the banquet hall, where they stood side by side in the receiving line.

SEIZE AUTO AND HELD ON A ROBBERY CHARGE

RENO, Nev., Oct. 2.—Because they seized an automobile by forcing the driver of a rented car to get out at the point of a revolver, Earl Falles, 47 years of age, and W. Derrington, 27 years of age, were intercepted at Wadsworth last night and brought to the county jail here. After a 10-day arrest, the men appeared and admitted the party as the same persons who had stopped them on the road and rifled their clothes at the point of a revolver.

The accused men rented the automobile in Reno, and after traveling 10 miles, forced the chauffeur to dismount. He telephoned for the sheriff, who notified the Wadsworth officers.

JR. E. D. WELSH ON TRIAL ON CHARGE OF BIGAMY

The case against Dr. Edmont D. Welsh, charged with perjury and bigamy, began in the district court yesterday, and, aside from a few unusual questions, aimed at prospective jurors, was devoid of sensational features. It is said that the defense will seek to create the impression that the suit against Welsh is inspired by the Stratton estate, because the physician sued the street car company, one of the estate's properties, for damages for injuries alleged to have been received in a street car accident. One juror, who admitted knowing officials of the street car company, was asked by the attorney for the defense if it were shown that the case was being pushed by the Stratton estate whether it would embarrass him. Insinuations of this character were resented by Deputy District Attorney Burns, who has charge of the case for the state.

After selecting a jury, which occupied the forenoon, the defense raised the point that Welsh's statements made in procuring a marriage license, did not constitute perjury. The jury was excused while the lawyers argued the question. Judge Scheerer will rule on the legal point involved when court convenes at 10 o'clock this morning.

Welsh is on trial for perjury and bigamy, the result of his having been married in this city while he is alleged to have had a wife in Michigan. It is also claimed that after his supposed second marriage in this city he went to Castle Rock and secured a divorce from his first wife, George Dayton, who is the state's witness to the divorce at Castle Rock, has not been located by the sheriff's office. There is a subpoena out for him. When Welsh secured his marriage license here he swore that he had never been married before.

About a year ago Welsh brought suit against the street car company for injuries alleged to have been received in a street car accident. It is thought that the defense will seek to prove that the street car company is behind the present case against Dr. Welsh.

STIRRING SCENES IN THE "THREE OF US"

By H. H. F.
There is western life and stirring scenes a-plenty in "The Three of Us," this week's play at The Burns. Here in Colorado Springs where we are so apt to get just such people as the ones in this play, there is considerable interest in such a play because it is so near us both in time and action. "The Three of Us" is a story of a girl and two young boys, who, left orphans, are thrown upon the rough life of a western mining camp. The exciting scenes that follow, the efforts of the older of the boys to enter into the strife and plotting for the possession of valuable mining claims, the devotion and strength of the sister, form a rattling good play with action every moment.

The appearance of Mr. Alinsworth Arnold, the capable actor who has been selected for leading man at the Burns, occasioned fully as much interest in the audience as that of the play itself. Mr. Arnold is a splendid type of man, physically, to which is added a powerful, resonant voice, which he handles excellently. As Stephen Townley in this week's play he completely dominates the scenes, with all the vitality and magnetism that the most exacting critic could demand in a leading man. Like his predecessors, Alinsworth Arnold is also an actor of polish and versatility. I predict for him a most successful season, and I am sure that Colorado Springs theatergoers will not be slow in appreciating an actor of this kind.

Rhy McCreaney, the sister, whose love and devotion to her brother almost wrecks her own happiness, is well taken by Miss Wayne. My admiration for this exceedingly clever leading woman increases the more I observe her. I have of observing her unusual skill in handling the different parts in which she is cast. Alfred Cross, as the scheming, polished easterner, Stephen Townley, is convincing and capable as ever. Lloyd Mitchell does a good character bit as Hop Wing, the Chinaman.

The staging alone in "The Three of Us" is sufficiently attractive to make the play well worth while. Particularly effective is the setting of act III, showing the interior of Louis Boreford's home. It depicts just the kind of hunting lodge any man with red blood in his veins would like to possess.

You will enjoy "The Three of Us," both for the sake of the play itself, and for the opportunity it affords to welcome Mr. Arnold. I sincerely hope that Colorado Springs theatergoers will sufficiently appreciate plays that are being given us at the Burns so that it may be possible for the management to continue so good a stock company throughout the winter season.

be some sort of sport, and from what I have learned, the High school conference last spring favored abolishing the game as an interscholastic sport. If we could substitute a fall baseball schedule or basketball in its stead, with less chance of serious injury, I believe that it would meet with the approval of the students and especially the parents of the boys.

The deaths of Acton Schontz in Longmont and Phil Webber in Pueblo have resulted in those two High schools abandoning football. Schontz was captain of the Longmont team and was injured in the game with West Denver High school last Saturday, when he was kicked in the head, resulting in a hemorrhage of the brain. Schontz sustained a broken arm in the terror game in Colorado Springs last Thanksgiving, and remarked at the time that he would never play again this year. It is stated that the boy refused an offer of $1,000 from his father, to keep out of the game this fall.

With these two institutions out of the game, and the Denver schools not competing out of town, the formation of a schedule has proven difficult for the Terrers. This is a large factor in the proposed talk of abandoning football this fall.

Faculty Is Noncommittal

Superintendent Cole, Principal Hill and Faculty Athletic Manager Nye are noncommittal on the proposed abolition of the game this year. The members of the school are seriously opposed to the proposed action, due largely to the splendid showing the High school team is making this fall. The team has a wealth of material and promises to turn out a championship squad, under the coaching of Athletic Director Blair.

Although the school board has taken no definite action on the matter at the present time, the regular meeting of that body next Wednesday night will be given over to a discussion of the issue. President C. H. Dudley of the board, when seen by The Gazette yesterday, had not come to any conclusion on the proposed abolishment.

Mistake to Play Big Teams

High school authorities point out that playing young, interscholastic teams against the heavy college players is a plan that must be stopped. The fact that the younger players are more often injured in such games was a point of discussion when the interscholastic conference met last spring. The agitation for putting an end to football has been going on for several years. Pueblo Central abolished the game six years ago, when the annual contest between the two Pueblo teams ended in a free-for-all fight. Several north-state teams have dropped the game and there has been great difficulty in completing schedules in Colorado this year.

It is not believed the agitation will prevent the Tigers-Terrers game at Washburn field Saturday and the outcome of the agitation depends upon the action of the school board next week.

Try This Home-Made Cough Remedy

Costs Little, But Does the Work Quickly, or Money Refunded.

Mix one pint of granulated sugar with 1/2 pint of warm water, and stir for 5 minutes. Put 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth) in a pint bottle, then add the Sugar Syrup. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.

You will find that this simple remedy takes hold of a cough more quickly than anything else you ever used. Usually ends a deep seated cough inside of 24 hours. Splendid, too, for whooping cough, croup, chest pains, bronchitis and other throat troubles. It stimulates the appetite and is slightly laxative, which helps end a cough.

This recipe makes more and better cough syrup than you could buy ready made for $2.50. It keeps perfectly and tastes pleasantly.

Pinex is the most valuable concentrated compound of No. 1 white pine extract, and is rich in vitamin and all the natural pine elements which are so healing to the membranes. Other preparations will not work in this formula.

This plan of making cough syrup with Pinex and sugar syrup (or strained honey) has proven so popular throughout the United States and Canada that it is often imitated. But the old, successful formula has never been equaled.

A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this recipe. Your druggist has Pinex or will get it for you. 16c. per ounce. J. C. F. Co., Ft. W., Tex.

MURDER OF RANCHER IN MEXICO IS CONFIRMED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—Confirmation of the report that Hubert L. Russell, an American, was killed by a band of Mexican rebels near Durango, in the state of that name, last Sunday, was received at the state department today. The murder was committed by a band under the leadership of Luis Cazo.

Acting under orders from Mexico City, federal troops are now in pursuit of the perpetrators. Russell was an agent of the San Juan de los Rios plantation, near the Guadalupe line, in southwestern Durango. This property belongs to Allen C. McCaughan, American vice consul at Durango, who at first was reported to have been slain with Russell.

tion at Baltimore that I was put forward to represent Thomas F. Ryan of New York. There has been an attempt made to endorse a statement made at the time of the Baltimore convention that Thomas F. Ryan had selected as the temporary chairman of the Republican national convention, and that he likewise had chosen another attorney of his, Alton B. Parker, to be temporary chairman of the Baltimore convention.

Denies Ryan Was Client

"There is no client that I ever had that could control my political action, further than that, Thomas F. Ryan was never my client, and never paid me a dollar for services in his life."

"Four years ago the distinguished gentleman whose name has been mentioned here (Mr. Ryan), as not only in opposition to me as a candidate, but against me personally, was good enough to write me a letter thanking me for my contribution to the Democratic platform; he was good enough to accept my invitation to visit me at Esopus."

"He requested the national committee that I should render such service as I could on the stump, and, wherever I was asked to go by that committee, in 10 states in all, I attempted to lift my voice and do work in behalf of that ticket."

Platform Adopted

The platform adopted today ratified the Democratic national platform, pledges its support to Wilson and Marshall, and condemns what it styles as the "monopolistic tariff evils" of the Republican party.

Governor Dix's administration is described as "efficient, clean and economical."

The platform pledges the legislature to provide for a constitutional convention to pass upon the initiative, referendum and the short ballot, and declares in favor of submitting the woman suffrage amendment to the people as soon as possible.

Nominations Made

When Chairman Parker called the convention to order this evening, Robert E. Whalen placed in nomination Martin H. Glynn of Albany for governor, and August Thomas, the play-

NO ULTIMATUM YET GIVEN IN BALKANS

LONDON, Oct. 2.—No ultimatum has yet been delivered to Turkey from the four Balkan states, but according to the most reliable news such an ultimatum will be presented at Constantinople tomorrow.

It will demand autonomy for Macedonia, Albania, Old Serbia and Crete within three days. In the event of failure to comply with this demand, the Balkan coalition will repeat it, and at the same time will ask a collective note to the great powers notifying them that after the expiration of another three days, the Balkan states will enforce the demand by recourse to arms.

Thus there will be a respite of a week before hostilities begin. This will be used by the powers to seek to arrange a compromise with Turkey acceptable to the four states which, it is believed, would prefer a way out without bloodshed.

PROGRESSIVE PLATFORM

THE people of El Paso County, through their expression, have fully indicated their approval of the Progressive party platform published in The Gazette Tuesday morning. The press of Denver in their comment upon this splendid party platform have been profuse in their praise of it. As a matter of fact the newspapers of Colorado fully appreciate the import and potent influence of legislation such as this platform demands. With a state ticket composed of good men, as the Bull Moose ticket is men who are dependable in every sense—and a platform of this character to represent their sentiments, there can be no question regarding the final results in November.

The new plank in reference to a farm and industrial law is especially striking and will appeal to the people of every class and condition in Colorado. This plank is as follows:

"A farm and industrial law providing for state co-operation in the solution of farm and industrial problems directed to the reduction of the cost of living, concerned with trust and monopolies, assisting the producer in dealing directly with the consumer and including provisions for the promotion of better conditions of farm and industrial life and more profitable and scientific farm and industrial production in every part of the state, by field, geological and other practical instruction and advice for farmers, miners and other industrial workers."

For some time past we have suggested that the real theory of sentiment for eastern Colorado was represented by the idea that we should quit preaching dry farming and begin teaching it. This plank comes in line with The Gazette idea. It suggests field work by representatives from the agricultural college to teach the people the character of their soil, something of the climatic conditions and especially the drought resistant crops to be planted in order to guarantee success at harvest time.

More than this, it provides that geologists from the State School of Mines shall render assistance by field work to the miners in the various sections of the state. Provision is also made so that representatives from the Horticultural School can furnish knowledge to the horticultural interest of the state.

Summed up, the plank is an especially strong one and will have much to do in the election of the Progressive ticket. The people of Colorado are favorable to a development of their resources. They believe, however, that dry farming as it has been practiced in the past is a tragedy—nothing more and nothing less. Perhaps the same might be said of the slipshod, haphazard manner of prospecting which has characterized the mining interests for the past ten years. There is little doubt but that a law of this character would have a tendency to revive mining, agriculture and every one of our resources in the state.

It goes, however, beyond this and purposes to take up the question of placing the producer and the consumer closer together. In other words to remove the middleman from such a large participation in the price of everything consumed.

Other planks in the platform are equally progressive and interesting and attention will be called to them later on. It is a splendid platform and one that will appeal thoroughly to every citizen of Colorado. Its humanitarian principles are so strong and well defined that the women will feel especial interest in guaranteeing success for a party with courage to indorse principles of this character.

SPLENDID OUTLOOK

IF THE enthusiasm of the people can be regarded as indicative of results in November, there can be absolutely no question but that the Progressive ticket will be elected by a landslide.

Old party leaders claim that fifty per cent of the vote this year can be listed in the "doubtful" class. According to their presidential canvass they assume that they will get at least sixty per cent of the doubtful.

ful. Herein they are making a grievous mistake. In the first place the old party man asks his former companion in politics which way he is going to vote, and that companion is usually reluctant to explain to him or to admit to him that he has left the old party and cast his lot along progressive lines. As a result of this reluctance it is impossible for either of the old parties to get any measure or lineup in their canvass.

In many counties of the state it is claimed that fifty per cent of the increase in the Bull Moose vote has come from Democratic sources. Where the politics of the county has been for years Republican, the Democrats are losing the largest number of voters. Where the politics of a county has been Democratic, and the Republicans have been powerless for years, the loss from the Republican party is undoubtedly heaviest.

As a rule it can be said that the new Progressive party is pulling about as heavily in a majority of the counties from the Democratic party as it is from the Republican. The Progressive Republicans of course are naturally and normally in line with the Bull Moose.

With enthusiasm increasing in every county of the state as it has during the last week or ten days, it is not difficult to determine what the final result will be. At Republican State Headquarters in Denver, the leaders admit their cause to be hopeless, and while not openly admitting through the public press that this is their condition, to their friends they have no hesitancy in stating that their candidate for the governorship will be a bad third in the race.

The Democrats are becoming alarmed and are centering their fire upon the Progressives. This is the best possible evidence of the fear they entertain for the future. More than this, the last ten days has spurred them to such an extent that they have made special effort to get Woodrow Wilson, the national candidate for the presidency, into the state where they hope he will succeed in bolstering up a lost cause.

The sentiment at the present time, however, is unmistakable. It is two to one for Roosevelt and the Progressive party in the city of Denver, and this same condition is fast becoming noticeable in the various counties of the state.

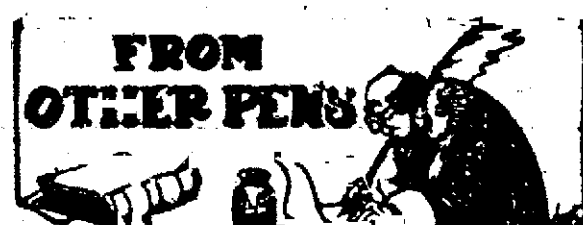

HELP THE COLLEGE

HEAVEN helps those who help themselves, and in the present day, and generation there are many men who pattern their conduct after heaven's way. The subscription of Mr. E. P. Shove of this city to the $100,000 gymnasium fund of Colorado College is a good example of this wise kind of aid which both helps and stimulates to self-help. He has agreed to give to the fund one dollar for every dollar given by the students of the College. Reports state that the students received this announcement with the greatest enthusiasm. Quite naturally, for they have undertaken a big contract in agreeing to contribute seventy-five hundred dollars to the fund, and they realize it. The promise of the duplication of their gifts therefore conveys a double meaning to them; it means that their fund for they feel it very distinctly as their fund is just so much nearer completion, and it means that they have friends who are giving them both material and moral support. The amount necessary for the erection of the building is now three-quarters complete. A few more practical friends like Mr. Shove, and actual work will soon begin.

SEWER CONNECTIONS.

To the Editor of The Gazette.
Recently Colorado Springs has spent a great deal of money in extending its sewer and water pipes in the northwest part of the city these are laid in the open prairie and will not be used for many years to come. One of these sewer extensions is brought within 100 feet of a cluster of about 15 houses, yet they are not permitted to connect with this sewer because, as the authorities say, these houses are outside the city limits. A petition was then presented asking annexation, but this was refused by the same city officials. Here is presented the anomalous state of having thousands of feet of unused sewers with these people willing to connect to them, but cannot owing to the whim of the authorities.

DEMORALIZING MOTION PICTURES.

From the New York Sun.
In all its appointments except the character of the films in use, the motion picture theater has been notably improved within the last three or four years. There is now no reason why the space occupied by spectators should be darkened, as was necessary in the early days of this amusement. The recording and projecting apparatus, in spite of the alleged repressive attitude of trust ownership, have been greatly improved. But coarseness, vulgarity and brutality are still tolerated in many of the dramas that are produced.

The task of efficient censorship is made exceedingly difficult because of the unusual nature of some of the patrons of motion pictures. These are boys and girls of an impressionable age, and women equally subject to morbid suggestion. They are capable of feeling thrills, and are generous with their applause when pictures that afford a spicier show are shown. The proprietors of the theaters are not to be blamed if they give what their public most enjoys. There are probably no definitely and brazenly indecent films now on public exhibition in New York, but many of a demoralizing effect are constantly shown.

It may be objected that the youths and women whose standards are endangered by reproductions of the life and death conditions of criminals, drunkards and other drug fiends would attend the cheaper class of playhouses given over to shrieking melodrama if there were no "movies." But the action of the lives of gamblers, thieves, courtesans, their guile and their pursuers, as revealed in the melodrama, are interpreted, modified and explained by the dialogue, the result being a toll which adjusts and corrects the image presented to the eye. The dialogue is high pitched, ridiculous, unhuman, but its morality is beyond question. This toll is entirely lacking in the motion picture houses.

This being the case, it is apparent that a play innocuous when presented with living actors each with a speaking part, reproduced in pictorial form may easily be degraded into a distinctly bad influence. Such a possibility should be constantly borne in mind.

Another matter essential to intelligent censorship is the effect actually produced on juvenile and unsophisticated minds, rather than that which should be produced. An educated, mature person seeing "Hamlet" in motion pictures would interpret each scene according to his acquaintance with the play. On an immature mind, having no knowledge of the play, the effect might be entirely different. Yet the prohibition of the masterpiece in motion picture houses would unquestionably arouse a storm of ridicule and disapprobation. But scenes from low life are constantly produced, and in many cases it requires an acute effort of the best disposed intellect to read in them any lesson except the glorification of sensuality, violence and wrongdoing.

As we have said, the suppression of frankly indecent films may safely be left to the public authorities, who may be relied on to do their duty. But they cannot be expected, without special authorization and incentive, to draw a line between the merely frivolous and the actually offensive and potentially degrading. Such a line must be drawn, nevertheless, and it is the duty of the decent men and women in the community to consider seriously the obligation they are under in the premises.

AMBASSADOR BRYCE.

From the Philadelphia Public Ledger.
It is welcome tidings that Ambassador Bryce is to return to Washington in September. Disquieting rumors of his impending resignation have been set at rest by the answer of Sir Edward Grey to interrogation in the house of commons.

The distinguished fitness of Mr. Bryce for his diplomatic responsibility at Washington has rarely been questioned—and such strictures as have been offered have reflected upon their author rather than upon their object. As Mr. Bryce clearly demonstrated in "The American Commonwealth," first published in 1888, no Englishman has more clearly comprehended or more rationally expounded the peculiar genius of American political institutions. He has brought to bear upon the study of American problems the ripe experience of a lifetime of extraordinarily various concern with public affairs. He was for 23 years the regius professor of civil law at Oxford. He has been president of the board of trade, under-secretary of state for foreign affairs, chief secretary for Ireland, and for many years a member of parliament, to name but a few of the offices in which he has acquitted himself with conspicuous credit. The qualities which have repeatedly led to the recognition and indorsement of the value of his services to his own country have caused him to be regarded here as the most popular and probably the most able representative Great Britain has sent to America. In his public capacity, he has been tactful, discreet, sagaciously reticent, in his private character he has continued to exemplify the high-minded scholar, the man of culture and of gentle breeding, who is the best citizen of every land.

THE ONLY TROUBLE.

One difficulty with the six-year single term for president is that it is too long for a bad president and not long enough for a good one.

If Men Did Women's Work

By RUTH CAMERON.

Don't you think it would be a grand thing, if for a short space of time—a month perhaps—every housewife in the land could leave her kitchen and her housework and let the men folks do her work?

If such a thing were possible, I think a great many good results would be brought to pass. One would be that some men would cease to wonder what their wives did with their time. Another would be that some men would realize that the money they have thought themselves generous in giving their wives was entirely inadequate pay for the work they have been doing.

And another result—and this is the point which I want to bring out today especially—would be that much better equipments for housework would be immediately installed in the homes. For no man would put up for a month with the makeshifts and make-work which the average woman endures.

One morning I chanced to be in the kitchen of a woman who does all the work for her family of eight. She was making the toast which is invariably part of their breakfast. In turning the toaster she dropped two pieces of bread and burned her hand getting them back. "I'm always doing that," she explained. "It's that horrid old toaster. It's been broken for months and I ought to get a new one." And a new toaster would probably have cost about a quarter.

I remember in my own kitchen an obnoxious egg beater which struggled frantically against performing its duty. At a conservative reckoning it must have taken twice as long to beat an egg with that instrument of nerve torture as it should have. Yet we made shift with that miserable thing for at least a year. And you can get a good egg beater for 25 cents.

The other day I assisted with the dish-washing in a summer cottage. There was no scourer. There had not been any all summer. That meant that it had taken about three times as long to wash the pots and kettles every day. Again and again I have heard that woman complain that she didn't get as much time to be out of doors as she had hoped. And a scourer would cost 10 cents!

Housework is hard work at best; its infinite demands eat up an astonishing amount of time. All too many women have said reason to quote—

Man's work is from sun to sun.
But woman's work is never done."

Surely then every housewife ought to have the best possible equipment. Sometimes their failure to do so is due to economy; sometimes it is just carelessness. If it's economy, it's false economy. If it's carelessness, it's very foolish and a waste of energy.

Every woman owes it to herself and her family to have as much time for rest and recreation as possible. The intelligent, modern woman is coming to realize this and to know that perfect equipment will help her. A professor's wife who decided to enlarge her husband's income by doing her own work, at once perfected her sanitation equipment and added to it a fireless cooker, a dish washer and a vacuum cleaner.

Men insist that they cannot do their work satisfactorily unless they have the best possible equipment. Why shouldn't women make the same demands?

MEASURES TO BE VOTED ON AT ELECTION NOV. 5

In order that the voters of El Paso County may familiarize themselves with the proposed laws and amendments to be voted on at the general election November 5, The Gazette intends each day to publish a brief abstract of one of the proposed measures, until the entire 32 have been set forth.

The first proposition which will confront the voter of Colorado on election morning which he or she turns to the submitted bills and amendments with the proposed statewide prohibition constitutional amendment.

It was submitted under the direction of the Woman's Christian Temperance union and has for its object the establishment of statewide prohibition in Colorado. It is one of the shortest amendments submitted. If adopted it will add a new article to our state constitution. It reads:

"No person, association or corporation shall, within this state, manufacture for sale or gift any intoxicating liquors; and no person, association or corporation shall import into this state any intoxicating liquors for sale or gift; and no person, association or corporation shall, within this state, sell or keep for sale, any intoxicating liquors or offer any intoxicating liquors for sale, barter or trade; provided, however, that the handling of intoxicating liquors for medical or sacramental purposes may be provided for by statute."

The Tariff

By GEORGE FITCH,
Author of "At Good Old Siwash"

The tariff is like a revolver. It is either a menace or a protection, depending on whether you are opposing it or are standing behind it.

If you are opposing the tariff, it is a cruel and hungry monster which reaches into the dinner bucket of the poor man and yanks the porterhouse steak and cold raspberry pie out of it. If you favor the tariff it is a benevolent high board fence which keeps the cruel monster of foreign competition from getting at the same dinner pail.

Any way you look at it, the tariff is intimately associated with the dinner pail. A good many people insist that it is the watch dog of the dinner pail, while others say that it never pays to give the dog the contents of said pail for watching it.

"Reaches into the dinner bucket and yanks the porterhouse steak and raspberry pie out of it."

The tariff lives in the customs house, but is horrified by both Republican and Democratic parties during each campaign and led about the country for exhibition purposes. When Democrats exhibit the tariff, they do so with great terror, and pale statesmen endeavor to keep it from breaking out of its cage and devouring children, three at a gulp.

On the other hand, when Republicans exhibit the tariff they put their arms lovingly around its neck and claim that it is as useful in a kitchen as two hired girls and a gas stove. On the whole, it is more fun to be a Republican than a Democrat, because a Democrat is so scared of the tariff all through the campaign that he can't sleep at night. A Democrat will link arms with a tiger and stroke his whiskers with pleasure, but let the tariff rise up ever so little and he shrieks for help from Maine to California.

Republicans are very kind to the tariff and point with pride to its growth and height. But Democrats claim it should be cut in two close to the tail, and they would then have done so in 1892 when they had the thing tied up, if they had not been so afraid of it.

We owe a great deal to the tariff, because it has protected our infant industries until they could grow up and become carnivorous.

MONTANA DEMOCRATS AT LAST TURN KENDRICK DOWN

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Oct. 2.—Following a secret conference of Democratic leaders here, it is announced that John B. Kendrick, the millionaire cattleman, who, under oath, has sworn he is a resident of Montana, will not do as a candidate for the United States senate to succeed Senator Warren. Kendrick has spent large sums in purchasing the Cheyenne Leader, Sheridan Enterprise and other newspapers throughout the state and in campaigning against Warren. He will, of course, fight against being turned out.

It is also announced that Governor Carey, while declaring he will not accept the senatorial toga, if offered, is exerting a fatherly interest for his son, Robert D. who, it is said, may become a candidate for Warren's place. Young Carey was recently defeated for the Republican nomination for state senator from Converse county, but was nominated by his father on the "Bull Moose" ticket. He has never held any public office.

Women residents of Copenhagen have the franchise in municipal affairs. In the election of aldermen last spring 80.5 per cent of the men voted and 68.7 per cent of the women.

THE HASKIN LETTER

SOME NEW VEGETABLE FOODS.

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN.

For a number of years the department of agriculture has been trying to find a vegetable that would be as staple in the southern states as the potato is in the north. The potato crop in the southern states comes early and is practically over by July or August and the climate is so warm that it cannot be kept throughout the year. Consequently, the southern menu is apt to depend too much upon corn, pone and bacon. It is now thought, however, that the cultivation of the dasheen will solve the difficulty and already it has become known favorably in a number of the larger hotels to which it has been sent from the government experiment stations where for several years it has been cultivated assiduously.

The dasheen is a vegetable brought from the tropics, being native especially to Central America, and it can be used in so many ways, and can be raised with so little difficulty, that it promises within a few years to become one of the staple food articles of the country. At a recent banquet of the National Geographical society, held in Washington, the dasheen was given a prominent place upon the menu and was highly commended by those in attendance. It is now being raised in considerable quantities as far north as the Carolinas, although it is in Florida that it has achieved its highest success, since a half acre connected with the Brookville experiment station last year yielded 225 bushels of dasheens. It is believed that there are thousands of acres of wet land in the southern states which can be utilized in dasheen cultivation, thus adding materially to the food supply of the nation. The tuber matures in August or September, or even later in some of the states, and in the localities unaffected by frost may be left in the ground without injury during the winter months.

Tuber as Food.

In appearance the dasheen plant is similar to the elephant ear or calladium which is so widely cultivated as an ornamental plant. Its tubers are also similar to that of the calladium and they grow in large clusters beneath the ground. Some of these tubers are as much as six inches in diameter, although they will, doubtless, vary as much in size as the ordinary Irish potato. The flesh of the tuber is similar to that of the potato when cooked, although it is apt to be somewhat gray or violet in color. The department of agriculture has already formulated recipes for cooking the dasheen and these directions are practically the same as for cooking potatoes, since they are boiled, baked, stuffed, fried or creamed. The taste of the cooked dasheen is similar to that of boiled chestnuts.

While the tuber is the most important part of the dasheen food supply, it is not the only one utilized. The entire plant is edible and highly palatable. The leaves are succulent and when cooked as spinach form excellent greens and the flower, which is yellow in color in most varieties, is used as salad, while the leaf, stalks and shoots, which are grown by placing the tubers in a dark place and allowing them to sprout, are said by epicureans to be vastly superior to asparagus in flavor and are totally lacking in the fibrous quality which is often objectionable in asparagus.

The efforts of the department of agriculture to broaden the list of plant foods require the services of plant experts who are sent to all parts of the world in quest of new dishes to add to the menu for the American palate. From Japan and China, as well as from Turkey, Africa and South America, new plants are constantly coming which the American experiment stations are testing with a view to placing them upon the food markets of the country.

New Salad Plant.

A new salad plant which has lately been tried satisfactorily in the New York market and is already becoming well known in California, is the Japanese "udo," which is grown in a manner similar to asparagus and can be easily forced for the winter market. As a salad, udo has been commended by the chefs of some of the leading hotels in New York. It has also received great favor as a vegetable. So far it is not produced in commercial quantities, as it takes years of education to popularize a new food, but one truck farmer in California has this year planted 40 acres of udo with the intention of growing it for the eastern market.

It is quite within the memory of most people when bananas began to be a popular fruit. To many people the taste for them had to be cultivated, although their introduction has now become so complete that they threaten in popularity the peaches, pears and apples which are native to the country. In the same way the department of agriculture expects to popularize the avocado, or alligator pear, which within the next five years has made its appearance upon the market of every city of any size. The annexation of tropical territory to this country has added to the variety of our food supply and the economic advantage of utilizing these new foods is apparent to anyone.

"In Hawaii the cultivation of the avocado has been undertaken in a scientific manner by the experiment station so that its advantages were established to those familiar with it even before the attachment of Porto Rico and even of the Panama canal zone. Now it is becoming quite extensively cultivated, both in Florida and southern California, so that the supply is each year becoming greater although it is not yet sufficient to make the price low enough for popular demand. There are stories told of fabulous prices still being paid for the fruit of a single avocado tree. It has one disadvantage, however, which the experimenters of the department of agriculture are working to overcome. The fruit does not ship well, chiefly because the seed is large and hard and rather loose inside. In the shipment this seed frequently becomes entirely free from the fibers restraining it and rolls around, bruising the inside flesh of the fruit so that it becomes rancid and turns dark. To make a satisfactory commercial product, the fruit should have a smaller seed more tightly attached and it is believed that this will soon be achieved by those engaged in its cultivation.

The "Alligator Pear."

How the term, "alligator pear," ever became applied to this fruit is unknown unless, as some one has suggested, it was a drunken sailor's attempt to ask for "agua carra" which is the old Spanish name for the fruit in Central America. It has been called "midshipman's butter" and this name is not so much of a misnomer since the fruit is so oily that it makes an excellent substitute for butter when eaten with dry bread and a little salt. The taste for the avocado must be cultivated by most people, but epicureans agree that the pleasure derived from it is worth the cultivation while the exceptional nutritive qualities of the article make its food value important. At present the price of the avocado, ranging from 30 to 75 cents apiece, renders them a distinct luxury, but with their increased cultivation there is no question but that they will become cheaper.

The addition of a number of new fruits to those already familiar to this country is another result of the efforts of those who are seeking to enlarge our food supply. The number of Americans who during their stay upon the canal zone have become attached to the papaya, will call for a large supply of that melon-like fruit which a few years ago was almost unknown. This is also a semitropical fruit which is being experimented with in some of the southern states. In Panama it is used as a melon chiefly, although a chef in the employ of one of the officers of the canal commission won many encomiums over his introduction of papaya ice cream. The papaya is a

Sage Tea Will Darken the Hair

There is nothing new about the idea of using Sage for restoring the color of the hair. Our grandmothers kept their hair dark, glossy and abundant by the use of a simple "Sage Tea." Whenever their hair fell out or took on a dull, faded or streaked appearance, they made a brew of Sage leaves, and applied it to their hair with wonderfully beneficial effect.

Nowadays we don't have to resort to the old-time tiresome method of gathering the herbs and making the tea. This is done by skillful chemists better than we could do it ourselves; and all we have to do is to call for the ready-made product. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, containing Sage in the proper strength, with the addition of Sulphur. Another old-time scalp remedy.

PERKINS TABLET TO BE UNVEILED TODAY

Many Will Attend Ceremonies at Garden of the Gods - This Morning

Colorado Springs will formally commemorate the gift of the Garden of the Gods to this city by the late Charles Elliott Perkins, this morning at 11 o'clock, when the ceremonies of unveiling the bronze memorial tablet will be held at the gateway rocks, at the entrance to the great natural park. Simple services consisting of addresses by Mayor H. F. Avery, former Mayor Henry C. Hall, Judge H. G. Lunt and a short response by Robert F. Perkins, son of the donor of the park, will compose the program.

As guests of honor there will be Mrs. Charles E. Perkins, widow of the late Mr. Perkins; Robert E. Perkins, a son; Mrs. J. G. McIlvaine, a daughter; Dr. George Kinney and E. J. Smith, who arrived here Tuesday night. Mrs. Perkins will pull the cord that will release the veiling of the tablet.

A special mark of recognition of the gift to Colorado college of the Perkins fine arts hall, will be made by the members of the faculty and representatives of all student organizations of this college, who will attend the unveiling exercises in a body. City officials, members of the park commission, and representative citizens will make up the special attendants, while the general public is extended a hearty invitation to attend the services. It is expected that there will be several hundred people at the ceremonies, which will be held directly in front of the tablet, which has been imbedded in the wall of the north gateway rock.

Reception Last Night

Mrs. Perkins was tendered a reception in the parlors of the Antlers hotel yesterday afternoon between the hours of 5 and 7 o'clock by the City Planning committee of the Civic League. Nearly 200 prominent men and women called to meet Mrs. Perkins, her son, Robert F. Perkins, and her daughter, Mrs. J. G. McIlvaine. On the reception committee were Mrs. William C. Sturgis, Mrs. George A. Fowler and Mrs. W. F. Slocum.

Following the reception Mr. and Mrs. Sturgis entertained at dinner at their home in compliment to Mrs. Perkins. Covers were laid for Mrs. Perkins, Mrs. McIlvaine, Mr. Perkins, Judge and Mrs. H. G. Lunt, Mr. and Mrs. D. V. Donaldson, Dr. and Mrs. W. F. Slocum, Alanson S. Hall and Mr. and Mrs. Sturgis.

COLORADOANS ARE UNDER WEIGHT SAYS NAVY MAN

That Colorado men are underweight for their height, is the statement of Recruiting Officer Perry, in charge of the local office of the United States marines.

"Time and again we have had to turn men down because they could not qualify in weight," said the officer. "Many of the men who have applied to our station have failed to meet the educational qualifications, but the percentage of applicants who are turned down because of physical inability is astonishing. Uncle Sam wants able-bodied men and no other kind are allowed in the service," he added.

"The men who apply here are strong fellows, but either in weight or in their other qualifications they fall short," stated the recruiting officer.

Finds Son Through Story in Newspaper

In order to protect his eight-year-old son from the lad's alleged demented mother, Calvin Whitecraft, 218 North Prospect street, went to Denver yesterday. Mrs. Anna Whitecraft and the boy were taken in charge in Denver Tuesday by Humane Officer David of that city. The boy said he and his mother had been walking the streets for three days. The woman told the authorities that she was looking for a daughter. From her actions the police concluded that she was mentally unbalanced and she was placed in charge of the matron at the county jail. At the same time young Whitecraft was taken in charge by the juvenile authorities.

ST. STEPHENS SEWING SCHOOL OPENS SATURDAY

St. Stephens Sewing school will reopen on Saturday, October 5, at 10 o'clock, in the church building, corner of Tejon and Monument streets. This is a free sewing school for any child who wishes to learn to do plain sewing. The school was started some 12 years ago before sewing was taught in the public schools, its aim being to teach children to sew whose mothers were too busy to give the necessary instruction.

When sewing was first taught in the grade schools, it seemed as if St. Stephens school could be discontinued, but it has proved to be a great help to the children.

Its courses are planned to prepare the children for the work they will do later in the schools, and the children and teachers find it is of great benefit to them.

A circular invitation is extended to every child over five years of age who cares to learn to sew.

CITY THREATENS ACTION AGAINST LIGHT COMPANY

Arrest of the officials of the Colorado Springs Light, Heat & Power company or else an action against the company, was the recommendation made by Mayor Avery before the city council yesterday. He charges the company with negligence.

In his recommendation the mayor declared that about four months ago, following the report of a special committee, the company had been notified by the water and health departments to move the caretaker's house and toilet located above the Halfway house on Pikes Peak, to a point farther down the cog road. Pollution of the water supply threatened by the structure, in its present location, was said. It is stated that the company has ignored the order.

The council voted to send the company another notice with notification that if the order is not complied with immediately legal action will be taken.

Mayor Avery made another charge against the company to the effect that it is ignoring an agreement of 15 months ago to move the wooden poles from the streets in the paving district into the alleys. The mayor stated that it was first proposed to put the wires underground, but later decided that removal to the alleys would be sufficient. While part of the work has been done, no effort is being made to complete it, he said.

MAYOR PLANS FURTHER EXTENSION OF LIGHTS

"Colorado Springs will enhance its reputation for civic beauty by extension of the present lighting system until no city of its size can offer a comparison."

This was the statement of Mayor Avery yesterday in discussing plans for the installation of additional ornamental lights. The first impression is as lasting when applied to cities as to individuals, he declared.

Before the opening of the tourist season next spring Mayor Avery plans extension of the lighting system on Pikes Peak avenue to the Santa Fe depot and from the Antlers hotel to the Rio Grande depot, so that "tourists alighting from the night trains will be greeted by a blaze of illumination that will be a brilliant advertisement for the city."

Extensions on Pikes Peak avenue to the postoffice and a block north on Tejon street are planned for completion within the present year.

Mrs. L. C. Hastler, Grand Island, Neb., has something she wishes to say about Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. "My three children had a very severe attack of whooping cough, and suffered greatly. A friend recommended Foley's Honey and Tar Compound, and it did them more good than anything I gave them. I am glad to recommend it." The Robinson Drug Co.

MUSICAL CLUB CHORUS TO REHEARSE TONIGHT

The first rehearsal of the chorus of the Colorado Springs Musical club will be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock at Grace church parish house. Rehearsals probably will be held every Thursday night. The chorus will take up the study of the "Creation," which will be given the latter part of December and in connection will begin the study of one of the Gilbert & Sullivan light operas, to be given in March or April. The chorus is under the direction of Paul Albert Johnson and has a membership of 70. It is hoped that at least 100 members will enroll for this winter.

OPPOSITION ARISES TO OPEN SCHOOL HOUSES

Strong opposition to the proposed amendment to the state constitution, which bears the caption, "Open the School Houses," prevailed in discussion last night at a session of Duquesne council No. 2, Jr. U. S. A. M.

No argument was made against the social feature offered by the bill, in making the schools centers of the communities. But it was declared by Van E. Rouse, secretary of the board of education; W. P. Kinney, president of the board; B. A. Banta and J. P. Madden, county commissioners, and O. E. Rickerson, clerk of the district court, that the danger in the bill lies in a provision for the mayor of cities of the class of Colorado Springs shall be vested with power to appoint the membership of the board of education, taking the school elective franchise from the people. This, it was stated, would open opportunity to build up a powerful political machine.

The enactment of this amendment, it was emphasized, would exempt this school district from more than one-half million dollars in taxes, by eliminating the taxes now derived from the railroads outside of the district. A public meeting will be held soon, probably in the court house, to further discuss the proposition. J. P. Madden, Van E. Rouse and William L. Spencer were appointed a committee to make arrangements.

We, the wife and children of Aaron J. Stanesworth, desire to express our thanks to the Rebekah, Royal Neighbors and the Homebakers lodges, and to all neighbors and friends for the kindness shown us in the recent illness and death of our husband and father.

CITY WILL NOT EXTEND TIME TO FINISH CONTRACT WORK AT RESERVOIR; M'REYNOLDS GIVES REASONS

Extension of time until next year for completion of work on No. 2 reservoir of the water system was denied the contractors, Ord and Swape, by the city council this morning, upon recommendation of Mayor Avery. The water superintendent was instructed to notify the contractors that the work must be completed in November, the stipulated time.

Scarcity of labor was the plea of the contractors in their petition for an extension. They stated that it was impossible to secure men to complete the work in time.

Conditions existing on the work, it is said, do not appeal to workmen, who find their services in demand at a better wage. In contrast, the statement is made that on reservoir No. 4 the city paid $2.75 for eight hours' work and provided good shelter and bedding for the men. On reservoir No. 2 the men are paid $2.50 for 10 hours' work, and are required to furnish their own bedding and light.

Water Superintendent McReynolds cites, in a communication to Mayor Avery, and submitted yesterday to the city council, what he declares are causes of dissatisfaction resulting in inability to secure men to complete reservoir No. 2 in the specified contract time. The communication follows:

Mayor H. F. Avery, Commissioner Water and Water Works, Colorado Springs: Dear Sir: Upon my inspection of Reservoir No. 2, I am sorry to say that I regard Mr. Ord's request that he be allowed to suspend work on reservoir No. 2, and his contract be extended to next year.

I found that they are paying $2.50 for 10 hours' work, charge $3.00 a week for board, charge men for candles, and charge for hay to sleep on. I believe we should insist upon their completing the contract this year, as weather conditions have improved the past week, and this is not holding them back from working. I believe we should recommend that they should be required to pay men $2.50 for eight hours' work, furnish lamps and coal oil and furnish mattresses to sleep on. I believe that the charge for board of $3.50 a week is fair.

I think that the contractors, by making these changes, will be able to get men to finish work this year.

Yours respectfully,
E. R. McREYNOLDS.

At yesterday's meeting, a motion was that the city bring suit against Colorado City for the amount due on a sewer bill.

Action on the day of next ordinance was deferred until tomorrow, when protests will be heard. A communication from the Ministerial association urged that the ordinance be placed upon first reading immediately. A decision has not yet been made as to whether the council shall enact the ordinance, or whether it shall be submitted to the people for referendum vote.

The authorities of the Vatican have been so far relaxed, it is reported, as to allow the introduction of a moving picture machine into the Papal "palace," and the Pope, for the first time in his life, has enjoyed the diversion of seeing the moving films. Views of his old home, Venice, were particularly appreciated.

For The Nervous Woman,

Or the woman who experiences hot flashes nothing is so good to soothe, quiet and calm the nervous system as a pure glyceric extract of native medical plants, and made without alcohol, which has been sold by druggists for the past forty years, and most favorably known as Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription. In younger years some women suffer from dizziness, or fainting spells, hysteria, headache, beating down feelings and pain. All these symptoms of irregularity and female disturbance are relieved by the use of this famous "Prescription" of Doctor Pierce.

As a powerful, invigorating tonic "Favorite Prescription" imparts strength to the whole system, and in particular to the organs distinctly feminine. For over-worked, "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop-girls," house-keepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, it is an excellent appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

"My disease was called retroversion," writes Mrs. Lydia McDonald, of Mesquite, Mich., Route 1. "I had nervous chills and numb spells and they would leave me very weak. Then I had inflammation and the doctor said I had a floating kidney. I doctored seven months with our family physician. He said I would have to have an operation. Then I stopped taking his medicine. After taking three bottles of Dr. Pierce's medicine I have not had any nervous chills or weak spells. I am better than for years."

"My daughter is now taking the 'Prescription' for nervousness and weak tired feeling. These troubles have held her ever so much in a short time. We have great faith in your medicines for female troubles."

VANDERBILT RACE WON BY DE PALMA; HUGHES SECOND

WAUWATOSA, WIS., Oct. 2.—Ralph De Palma, driving true to the form and luck which he exhibited at Elgin a month ago, today, with a Mercedes car, won the eighth running of the classic Vanderbilt cup automobile race from a field of eight starters over the new Wauwatosa road course. His time was four hours, 20 minutes, 31.54 seconds for a distance of 299 miles, 2,764 feet.

This was at a speed of 69 miles an hour, or five miles per hour slower than last year's Vanderbilt at Savannah.

De Palma won by 42 1/2 seconds from Hughes, driving a Mercedes special, after Teddy Tetzlaff had led through the first half of the race and then had been forced to withdraw because of engine trouble. Spencer, Wisbart, with a Mercedes car, was third. Gil Anderson, driving a Stutz, finished fourth. Only these four cars finished. Ralph Mulford was eliminated early in the race by a broken magneto. Tetzlaff went out, after he had acted as pacemaker for the first 15 miles, because of the breaking of the bearings in the driving shaft of his Fiat car. Gil Anderson, driving a Stutz, and Harry Nelson with a Lozier car, apparently never had a chance to win.

Tetzlaff furnished the feature of the first portion of the race, frequently averaging a speed of 75 miles an hour for repeated laps. He drove the fastest lap of the day, six minutes, 16 seconds for the 7.58 mile course. In addition to the costly Vanderbilt trophy, De Palma won $3,000 in cash from the promoters of the race making, and a large sum from the manufacturers of accessories.

Hughes, for winning second position, not $2,000 and manufacturers' prize. Wisbart took $1,000 as his end of the purse and Gil Anderson, who $500, as fourth money.

DE PALMA AND HUGHES, CUP WINNERS AT MEET YESTERDAY IN MILWAUKEE.

Ralph De Palma, with the engine in a Mercedes car, made the course today in 4 hours, 20 minutes, 31.54 seconds, five miles an hour slower than he won in 1911. Tetzlaff (on the left) took second place. De Palma's additional $3,000 in addition to the Vanderbilt trophy amount to $3,000.

PAPKE SUSPENDED; COMMISSION ASKS FRANCE TO BAR HIM

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—For failing to keep his contract to box 10 rounds with Frank Mantell of Providence before the New Star A. C. of this city, last night, Billy Papke of Kansas, Ill., was suspended for an indefinite period by the New York State Athletic commission today.

This means that Papke will not be permitted to box in New York state until reinstated. Also it may have the effect of canceling his match with the French champion, as the following cablegram was sent by the commission today:

"Paul Rousseau, French Federation of boxing clubs, La Tempa, Paris, France: Papke suspended. We feel suspension should be sustained in France, as we sustain suspensions by your federation."

Papke sailed for France today.

PEPPERS AND MACK WIN BOUTS—YOUNG TILLMAN ON NEXT

In one of the best sport cards offered the fans of this section for months, Hun Peppers got the decision of San Francisco, and Jimmy Mack took two falls from Jack Armstrong at Elgin, at the smoker held at the Young Men's Republican club at Colorado City. A good crowd enjoyed the events, and it was announced that on October 16 Young Tillman, the Colorado Springs heavyweight, will meet Arthur Hopper of Colorado City.

Peppers won his fight in the fifth section of a fast and furious bill. Harris claimed that in the fourth round he received a foul punch, and in the fifth was unable to stand up in front of the local scrapper. Mack, in his wrestling match with Griffl, the "St. Louis Kid," took the first fall in eight minutes with a body hold, and the second in 14 minutes, 30 seconds, with a head lock and body hold. A challenge from Kutsengas, a Colorado City Greek wrestler, was read following the match.

The club is making plans to stage some classy programs this fall, and made a good start last night.

Baden's Winnings Amount to $29,100

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 2.—Baden, beaten last week in the Hoosier-Columbus stake, won the Buckeye today, and in so doing defeated the same trotters that were ahead of him in the richer event.

He trotted first and third heats in 2:05 1/4, half a second better than his own record. The performance gave the stake a new record, and ranks as the best of the Grand Circuit year for trotters of Baden's class. His winnings for the season reached $29,100 by today's races.

Eva Cord and Bessie Ree, like Baden, were winning favorites. The former took the 2:11 trot in straight heats. Bessie Ree was third twice in the 2:15 pace, and then started to win. The 2:14 trot, five heats of which were raced Tuesday, was settled with a sixth heat. In it Doctor Wilson won by being able to stand off Jean Aron in the stretch.

Impetuous Palmer, 3-year-old pacer, owned by L. C. Kinney, of Rushnell, Ill., driven by C. A. Valentine, made himself the worst of the champion for stallions of the age. He won in an attack against the record, 2:05 1/4, held jointly by Jim Logan and Klatsawah. The time by quarters was: 31 1/2, 1:03 1/4, 1:34 1/4, 2:05 1/4.

The 2:14 class trotting, purse, $1,200, five heats Tuesday—Doctor Wilkes won. Jean Aron, second; Wilkes Mack, third. Best time, 2:08 1/4. The 2:12 trot, 3 in 5, $5,000, was won by Ruth McGregor, second; Esther W., third. Best time, 2:05 1/4. The 2:11 trotting, purse, $1,200—Eva Cord won; DuChesne, second; Robert Milrod, third. Best time, 2:08 1/4. To beat 2:05 1/4, world's record, 3-year-old pacer, extra-impetuous Palmer won. Time, 2:05 1/4. The 2:15 pace—Bessie Ree won; Adeline W., second; Stehrino Lad, third. Best time, 2:08 1/4.

MAKES NEW RECORD

LEXINGTON, Ky., Oct. 2.—What is believed to be a new record for a yearling trotter was made here today when Aldeide, driven by N. C. Moody, and owned by L. L. Tilton of this city, trotted a mile in 2:14 1/4 at the Breese, 10th minute. The fraction time was 34 1/2, 1:07 1/4, 1:42 1/4, 2:14 1/4. Tilton today worked a mile in two minutes flat.

H. B. DAVIS, JR., MAKES RECORD

The most brilliant golf ever played on the course of the Colorado Springs Golf club was executed yesterday afternoon by H. B. Davis, Jr., when he lowered the course record to 71. His driving was extremely long, and his second shots were straight on the flag. He started with nine consecutive fours—in fact, he had not a five on his card until the last hole, when he just missed a five-foot putt.

Mr. Davis won the state championship last year and undoubtedly would have retained the title had he been here to compete last month. The following shows his wonderful score: In 18 holes, 4 4 4 4 4 4 4 4 36. In 36 holes, 3 4 3 4 4 4 4 4 5—35.

GRIZZLIES PRIMED FOR SERIES WITH MINNEAPOLIS CLUB

DENVER, Oct. 2. Ollie Chell, premier umpire of the American association, arrived in Denver this morning to officiate in the post-season series to be played by Denver and Minneapolis at Broadway park, beginning Saturday afternoon. Chell, with Jack Haskins, umpire-in-chief of the Western league, will take over the diamond at each of the games to be played by the Grizzlies and Miners.

The association later came to Denver by invitation of the Minneapolis club for the purpose of attending the banquet which will be given by President Mehl to the members of his club, and other baseball dignitaries of the State hotel tonight.

Daily practice was continued by the Grizzlies today, and all are in good shape for the series. And not only that, every member of the Grizzly squad is confident that the home team will give four of the seven games with the association champions.

Much speculation is being indulged in as to who will pitch the first game for Denver. The present form of the hurlers indicates that Barney Schreiber will be the selection. Eric Ben Harris is slated for the second day, according to the wise doctors. He has been showing wonderful form in the last month, and both President McGill and Manager Hendricks believe that he can beat the Indian skip on Minneapoli.

Although few knew it, Harris won his last 11 games in the regular season without a break. His work, while not of the spectacular variety, has been consistent. Who can tell but that he may be in line Denver-Minneapolis series what Babe Adams was in the Pittsburgh-Detroit world's championship series of a few years ago.

DENVER PLAYER HURT IN SCRIMMAGE

Boulder, Colo., Oct. 2.—Frank Slattery of Denver, one of the most prominent candidates in the University of Colorado football squad, was injured in a scrimmage practice last night and will be unable to play in the game on Gamble field Saturday against the Utah State Agricultural college. The ligaments of his left shoulder were badly torn.

There is a distinctly Boston flavor about the Red Sox, a real Commonwealth Avenue atmosphere, for Stahl comes from Illinois; Spencer from Texas; Hall, Lewis and Hooper from California; Wagner from New York; Cady and Eadie from Illinois; whereas Wood and Yelke live in Pennsylvania.

PHILLIES, 2; GIANTS, 1.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—In the last National league contest on the polo grounds this season, New York again was defeated by Philadelphia. With the bases filled, with one out in the ninth, Grandle hit a vicious drive over the head. Dodge, however, made a great one-handed catch, and then doubled Meyers off first. Seaton, though wild, was effective in pinches. Knabe was spiked by Burns in the first inning and retired. Herzog and Nelson were ordered off the field by Umpire Allen. Score: R.H.E. New York, 1; Philadelphia, 2. 11 14 3. Ames, White and Hartley; Seaton and Killian.

CHICAGO, 6; PITTSBURG, 5.

CHICAGO, Oct. 2.—Duke Carter's two singles, one in the ninth and the other in the tenth, enabled Chicago to win the final game of the series with Pittsburgh. Schulte's thirteenth home run tied the score in the sixth, but Alvin's home run gave the visitors the lead in the eighth. With the bases full in the tenth and two out, Carter singled. Schulte finished with the winning run. Score: R.H.E. Chicago, 6; Pittsburgh, 5. 11 14 3. Langerman, Smith and Archer; Cotter, Langerman, Robinson and Gibson.

BOSTON WINS TWO.

BOSTON, Oct. 2. Boston defeated Brooklyn in two close games. Muran, who pitched two times during the two games, won the first game, and lost the second. Boston's victory in the first game was a surprise, as it was the first time that the Red Sox had won a game since the opening of the season.

Boils, Rashes, Pimples, Etc.

When the blood becomes infected with any unhealthy humor the effect is shown by boils, pimples, and rashes or eruptions on the skin. Humors get into the blood usually because of an inactive condition of the eliminative members. Remove these humors and no skin trouble can exist, because its very source is then destroyed. Boils, rashes, pimples, etc. can never be cured through the application of external medicines, the most to be obtained from such measures is temporary relief. S.S.S. CURES all skin affections because it purifies the blood. It goes down into the circulation and cleanses it of every particle of unhealthy matter. Then the blood supplies nourishment to the entire instead of irritating it with a very humor. If you have any skin trouble you could not do better than purify your blood with S. S. S. It does not "patch up" it cures. Book on Skin Diseases and any medical advice free to all write and request same.

PROSPECTS BRIGHT FOR EL ORO MINE

Special to The Gazette. CRIPPLE CREEK, Oct. 2.—According to men who are in a position to know, Bob Mullen secured one of the best prospects in the camp for his El Oro mine company when he took the Eclipse claim. Work in that property is proceeding and in a few days it is expected to open the big shoot of ore which has been mined out in the upper Eclipse tunnel. The present work is being done in the Comanche Flume tunnel, 200 feet below. Engineers figured that to open the shoot it would be necessary to cross about 40 feet and about 30 feet of that distance has been gone through to this time. The machine is now in a barrel and will be panned short. Just as soon as it is gone through it is expected that this shoot will be opened. In the upper tunnel there are three cars of ore which will run around 317 a ton, broken down, and this ore will be taken out just as soon as a raise goes through from the Comanche tunnel.

Assays taken across a distance of seven feet on one of the large bodies of low grade ore show an average of $1 a ton. It is declared that the El Oro company has been sufficiently financed at this time to insure the building of the mill to be put in Eclipse gulch.

Mullen, general manager of the company, has arranged with the El Paso people to borrow one of their No. 11 Cameron pumps to be put in the main shaft. It is expected that the water can be removed from that shaft in 10 days, working three shifts a day. This water will be sent down the gulch in a pipe and thus it will not run back into the shaft.

On the 500-foot level of the Eclipse shaft some of the large ore bodies have been exposed and some ore has been taken out from that depth. However, little development work has been done.

The El Oro controls 49 cars of choice ground on Battle mountain on which hill is located the Portland, Strong, Granite, Strations-Independence, being the large producers of the district. The company also controls 40 acres of choice ground on Ironhead hill, located next to the Pride of Cripple Creek.

SEPT. WAS HEAVY MONTH FOR THE JERRY JOHNSON

Special to The Gazette. CRIPPLE CREEK, Oct. 2.—The September output from the Jerry Johnson mine on Ironhead hill, operated by Frank Bailey, totaled 17 cars, of which eight were shipped by the main lessee and nine were sent out by Tom Ross, sublessee, who had a good prospect of ore on the first level. Ross has cleaned up this block and when he returns from his hunting trip, he will start in on another part of the mine. A raise is being put through from the 550-foot level to open the shoot that he is now working only at a further distance from the shaft. This is done in order to add mining operations.

The Johnson ore last month was of a good milling grade. A. Stafford, working the Apache shaft, sent out one car, which was a trial shipment.

It is expected that in another two months the development of the 550-foot level will be taken up. This will include the running of crosscuts and drifts in each direction from the shaft.

TO REPLACE LEG GIVEN BY BOY TO SAVE GIRL

COLORADO SPRINGS, Oct. 2.—William Barth, the boy who sacrificed his right leg to save a girl, has been awarded a new leg by the city of Colorado Springs.

NEW YORK MARKET

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—Enormous selling of our stocks for European account, the movement being impelled by the Balkan situation, was the distinguishing feature of today's operations on the stock exchange. Sales were estimated at over 100,000 shares, which probably represented the joint liquidation of London, Paris, Berlin, Frankfurt and Vienna.

The selling for abroad continued after the European markets closed. In fact, until the close of our own market. London continued to sell our securities until late afternoon. Steel was the feature of the foreign liquidation, sales of that stock probably aggregating 50 per cent of the whole.

Heaviness marked the opening here, a number of important issues, including Harriman and Hill shares, the congers, Amalgamated Copper, Steel and some specialties selling off a point or more.

Prices rallied considerably in the first hour, but fell lower in the late afternoon, when pressure upon some of the representative stocks was renewed, although trading slackened to a pronounced degree. Towards the close the market made some improvement on short coverings, but the undertone remained heavy.

Money remained on call, 6 per cent being the high rate, with renewals at 7 figures, as against 6 1/2 yesterday. Time accommodations were unchanged. Some shipments of currency to New Orleans were made.

Bonds were active and irregular, some issues responding to the heaviness of stocks, others to the buoyancy of the market.

Total sales, par value, $2,500,000. United States government bonds were unchanged on call.

CHICAGO MARKET

CHICAGO, Oct. 2.—Estimates that the United States this season has produced next to the largest wheat crop ever grown, coupled with a further day in regard to the trouble in the Balkans. Nevertheless, the market closed steady at 1/2 cent advance over last night.

Statements by a leading expert that the total yield of wheat in this country or 1912 would amount to 1,200,000,000 bushels became public after prices had shown decided strength, due to rumors of troops leaving the Turkish border. The early return in prices received impetus also from news of substantial export sales at the American seaboard.

Three profit-taking holders contributed toward leveling down part of the wheat bulge. December ranged between 90 1/2 and 91 1/2, with last sales 90 1/2 net higher, at 90 1/2.

Corn finished 1/2 to 1/4 up. Corn closed with a gain of 1/4. Provisions closed dearer by 10 to 40c. Quotations furnished by Oils & Co.
